

I encourage NO Change to the current code testing requirements or privileges for any of the Amateur Radio classes. Though I believe proficiency with morse is a still relevant and valuable skill, I strongly believe that it is not a prerequisite to further the radio art. I applaud the FCC's efforts to streamline the amateur radio service and believe this is a step in the opposite direction. Thanks! -Clark Hartsock, KR6AU